Israel claimed its tank forces backed by warplanes smashed forward inside Syria today as Jewish civilians reoccupied all but one of their settlements in the war-pocked Golan Heights.

The Egyptian command reported its Soviet-supplied jets blasted two Israeli command posts and two radar stations in the Sinai while Egyptian naval forces in the Gulf of Suez destroyed an entire Israeli flotilla.

Neither side reported heavy tank action in the Sinai Desert but Israel said artillery duels resumed at dawn. Egypt claimed its forces were digging in to stay on the eastern bank of the Suez Canal.

Veep announcement scheduled tonight

Nixon decided today on a nominee to succeed Spiro T. Agnew as vice president, and the White House said he would announce the choice in a 9 p.m. EDT television address to the nation.

The nominee himself will be advised of the selection shortly before that address, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said.

The White House announcement came amid a wave of speculation about possible choices to succeed Agnew, who resigned Wednesday and did not contest a charge of federal income tax

Ziegler said Nixon reviewed possible candidates Thursday night at Camp David, Md., and made the final choice this morning.

Nixon met at the white House with the Republican congressional leaders Sen. Hugh Scott and Rep. Gerald Ford. Those separate meetings were said to be for discussion of procedures Congress will follow in handling the vice presidential nomination.

The President's nominee would take the nation's No. 2 office upon confirmation by both houses of the Democraticcontrolled Congress.

Nixon also conferred with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

The White House said Nixon would make his announcement in an address from the East Room, before an audience of members of Congress, the Cabinet, the Supreme Court, other government officials, and diplomats. It was a day of speculation in Washington.

Friends of John B. Connally of Texas reported the former Texas governor antiaircraft batteries shot down six and Nixon Cabinet member had been offered the nomination.

But a source in the Texas congressional delegation said he would not be the nominee.

Connally himself was in Texas and unavailable for comment. His Houston office would not discuss the reports. There also was speculation about

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan as a possible choice. But Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the Senate Republican leader, shook his head in the negative when asked whether Ford had been selected.

Though Connally's stock with Nixon is unquestioned, there are growing signs that the former Democrat and Texas governor could face a long and troublesome confirmation by Congress. "If the President names Connally, that would split both parties," said a leading Democratic senator. Another congressional source predicted flatly

Mandatory fuel allocation plan pushed by solons

WASHINGTON (AP) - A mandatory would be "a strong disincentive or fuel allocation bill is gaining ground in needed new production." But the bill's Congress despite the Nixon administration's plans to announce today its own more limited program.

White House energy officials told the House Rules Committee Thursday that the administration program covering heating oil, kerosene, jet and diesel fuel would be based generally on 1972 distributions. Under the program, the government will have power to redistribute from 5 to 10 per cent of supplies in the future to areas experiencing hardships.

They also said states would be asked to set up hardship review boards. The administration recently imposed government control on distribution of propane gas.

These moves mean government control of distribution at the wholesale level, as opposed to consumer rationing.

White House energy chief John A. Love told the House committee it would be "the better part of wisdom to not enact this bill at this time.

But the committee voted 11 to 3 to clear the way for a House vote on the bill, which may come next week. The Senate has passed a similar measure.

Unlike the House proposal, the administration's program does not cover crude oil and gasoline. The bill would direct the President to set up within 25 days a mandatory allocation system covering crude oil, residual oil, and refined petroleum products including gasoline, kerosene, home heating oil, propane, butane, refined lubricating oil and diesel fuel.

Love argued that allocations of crude oil are "not called for or necessary at this time." He said such allocation

Promotion of four members of the Washington C.H. Police Department to the rank of police specialist was announced today by City Manager Dan Wolford said Patrolmen Dennis Brown, William Robinson, Larry Walker and William Cales were promoted to the new position created by City Council in April. The promotions were based on certification from the Civil Service Commission. Testing dates were June 21 and Sept. Police Chief Rodman Scott said these four offices will be assigned more technical and advanced investigative and enforcement tasks in the various phases of police work. Such duties may include both plain-clothes and uniformed assignments. At the onset of the new concept, only one man will be assigned as a plain-clothes officer.

THE PROMOTION advances each of the officers one step on the Police Department's pay scale. The next step is the rank of sergeant. At that level, policemen are involved in a supervisory capacity, Scott said.

One of the new police specialists will be assigned strictly as an investigator and the other three will remain as uniformed officers and will be responsible for direct action and preliminary investigation of all crimes and incidents.

"A major advantage is the flexibility the new positions permits by allowing the rotation of the investigator from within the ranks of the specialist as well as being able to draw from additional qualified personnel if and when an emergency would require additional investigation." Scott said.

of five years in prison and a $10,000

A bill went to Congress Thursday to authorize the court to extend the term of the original Watergate grand jury for up to one year if it needs the extra time to complete its business.

In a letter to House Speaker Carl Albert, Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson noted that the grand jury's 18-month term expires Dec. 5, and can be extended only by Congress.

In related matters:

-Four Cuban exiles who pleaded guilty to charges stemming from the June 17, 1972, Watergate break-in, told the court that even in federal prison they regarded Hunt as their clandestine supervisor and that he briefed each of them before they were called for questioning by federal investigators and the grand jury. The four-Eugenio R. Martinez, Virgilio R. Gonzalez, Frank A. Sturgis and Bernard L. Barker-filed affidavits in U.S. District Court to support their claims that they pleaded guilty only because they thought they were protecting a secret national security operation. They have asked to have their pleas thrown out.

—Cox filed a brief opposing release of the four and Hunt on bail while their requests are pending. Cox said the men have a history that "indicates the repeated use of aliases, false identifications, and false documents." If they were released, he said, they still could obtain such material and it would "increase immeasureably the risk of

War bill gets final approval

WASHINGTON (AP) - Landmark restraints on presidential war-making powers were expected to receive final congressional approval in the House today before heading for President Nixon's certain veto.

Backers said they would be watching today's vote for an indication of whether they can muster the two-thirds vote needed to override a veto.

The Senate's 75-20 approval Wednesday of the war powers compromise bill worked out by House-Senate conferees was well over two-thirds. But the House approved its original version 244 to 170, or 32 votes short of what would be needed to override a veto.

The President has said he would veto any bill that contains concepts he says are "dangerous and unconstitutional restrictions" on his executive powers. These remain in the compromise bill.

transfering planes and tanks to Israel. One such possibility involved moving U.S. Air Force F-4 Phantom jets to Israel from American bases in Europe. These would be replaced by planes being produced in the United States.

While these contingency plans awaited a final decision, preparations were made to send Israel tons of ammunition as a "quick fix" after it was determined the first six days of fighting had reduced stockpiles to serious but not extremely dangerous levels.

Some officials said sending the shells now also was a response to the continuing shipment of Russian equipment to Egypt and Syria.

It was hoped Moscow would realize that while Washington stands by the Jewish state, the limiting of supplies to ammunition indicated the Nixon administration did not want to open an arms race in the area.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, expects to wait a few more days before deciding whether he will enter the race for the 1974 GOP nomination for U.S. Senate.

"The timing isn't right," he said from his Washington office Thursday.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Howard C. Cook, R-1 Toledo, announced today his candidacy for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor of Ohio.

spokesman that he would seek the views and recommendations of national leaders before sending a nomination to Congress. Those recommendations flooded into the White House Thursday, and, stuffed into briefcases, were carried by Nixon to the wellguarded compound where the thick forests are aflame with the reds and golds of autumn.

The White House said Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott delivered the recommendations of the Senate's 42 Republican members to the President's personal secretary, and that House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford had done the same with suggestions from the 192 House Republicans.

Republican National Chairman George Bush turned over to White House staff chief Alexander M. Haig Jr. the recommendations he solicited from 19 Republican governors and 162 state GOP chairmen and National Committee members. In addition, Nixon's senior White House advisers telephoned dozens of prominent individuals outside of government Thursday, funneling their views into the Oval Office. As Nixon pondered a decision, those mentioned as possible Agnew successors were showing differing shades of desire for the job.

Rockefeller reportedly told a New York congressman he had an "active interest" in being appointed. Connally, for his part, said he did not anticipate being the choice but "I have no idea what the President's going to do. Other names being promoted include those of former Secretary of State William P. Rogers; retired Sens. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and John J. Williams of Delaware; Sens. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Scott of Pennsylvania; former White House aides Donald Rumsfeld and Robert H. Finch: former Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, and Rep. Ford, of Michigan.

Stock prices rise again

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market today continued its rally, based on investor optimism about the state of the economy, but some analysts were worried that the market was overextending itself.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 7.42 at 983.52. It had been up more than 10 points earlier and had closed more than 13 points higher on Thursday. The dow blue chip indicator has risen about 100 points in a

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was up 1.33 at 110.15. McCulloch Oil, up 1/2 at 61/4, was the Amex volume leader.

On the Big Board, the volume leader was Dayton Hudson, down 11/8 at 131/2. The Big Board's broad-based index of some 1,500 common stocks was up .43 at

Pomona Grangers consider issues

NEW MARTINSBURG - Master Nathaniel Tway explained Issue No. 1, which will come to a vote in the Nov. 6 election, at the Pomona Grange meeting in the Forest Shade Grange hall here Thursday night. Issue No. 1 provides for a revision of the state tax laws to assess farm land on the basis of its current use value rather than its potential value for industrial or residential development.

He also read a communication explaining the need for a new Miami Trace District junior high school. A $2,036,000 bond issue proposal to build the school and also take care of maintenance and improvements of existing elementary schools at an estimated cost of $375,000. The bonds he pointed out, would be retired over a 22-year period with an average tax of 2.15 mills.

The Pomona Grange meetings normally have very good attendance, but Thursday night it was cut almost in half because many of the men were working late in the fields.

Following the business session, Mrs. Charles Cook, the lecturer, presented a story with audience participation.

Forest Shade Grangers served refreshments.

Shift fight to planned atom plant

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) - The Coalition for Safe Electric Power will shift its opposition to a nuclear power plant planned for Lake County, dropping its efforts against one being built near Port Clinton, a coalition spokesman says

Evelyn Stebbins, the group's chairman, said the coalition had decided against taking part in federal Atomic Safety and Licensing Board hearings on the Besse-Davis plant. BessieDavis is already under construction by the Toledo Edison Co. and the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

The board canceled a prehearing conference which had been scheduled

The coalition said continued opposition to the Port Clinton plant would be "a waste of time, effort and money." It called previous hearings on a construction permit "a kangaroo court." Instead, Mrs. Stebbins said, the coalition will fight CEI's Perry Nuclear Plant and will seek a moratorium on all such construction in Ohio. She said the Atomic Energy Commission's licensing board kept important issues out of the hearings and permitted construction to begin before permits were issued

The new facility, which will be called the Autumn Years Nursing Center, will be located on the east edge of Sabina on U.S. 22, directly across from the Sabina church camp.

Modern Sales Construction Co., of Wilmington, is handling the construction. The target date for completion is Jan. 1, 1974.

The new nursing center will be operated by the Healthco Facilities Corp., of Sabina. Healthco's officers are Paul Hoffman, of Columbus, president; Douglas Terry, of Hillsboro, vice president; Mrs. Geraldine Hoffman, secretary, and Mrs. Paula Terry

Hoffman and Terry are owners of the Eden Manor Nursing Home in Sabina.

THE ONE-FLOOR brick building will meet or exceed all state and federal safety standards, according to Terry. Among the safety features are an automatic water sprinkler system and an automatic smoke detection device. As an added safety feature the internal fire alarm systems will be connected directly to the Sabina Fire Department.

The colonial design structure is situated on a four-acre tract next to Uhl's IGA Foodliner. Features of the building will include both large lounge and small lounge areas, a spacious dining room, beauty shop and exam therapy and recreational therapy

Opinion And Comment

Two higher education reports

Coincidence rather than collusion, assumes, brought two significant reports on higher education to public notice on the same day recently. The reports nevertheless complement one another to a surprising degree.

The Committee for Economic Development recommended an expanded system of student aid, coupled with college tuition increases that would more than double the present rates. At the same time, the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education called for more emphasis on alternatives to college education after graduation from high school.

The Carnegie Commission is on solid ground in suggesting that college is not the only road to a satisfying and useful life. We concur in its view that there should be more governmental support for alternative "post-secondary education" programs - such things as job trainig under union or employer auspices, Peace Corps or Vista service, church and civic organizational training, private specialty schooling in preparation for a job.

As the Commission acknowledges, however, college education leading to an academic degree "is an absolutely essential part" of the educational scene. This brings us to those motivated to secure a degree, and to the problems they would face if average tuition charges were boosted from the present $413 to $996 as the Committee for Economic Development recommends.

It is only fair to note the CED's insistence "that under our proposal the increases in tuition are intended not to precede but to follow or coincide with the availability of funds to the prospective students to pay that tuition." The report urges an expansion of student loan and grant programs to keep pace with tuition increases imposed over periords of from five to 10 years.

Even with expanded grant and loan programs, this would work a hardship. The executive director of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities noted this at once, calling the proposal "a direct attack on millions of middleand lower-income American

Even the director of the CED study, one of America's most distinguished educators, dissented. This is Dr. Sterling M. McMurrin, former U.S. education commissioner and now dean of the University of Utah graduate school. He feels that the proposed doubling of tuition charges might "create a situation where middle-income people will not be able to afford a college education." That is a point to consider very carefully before undertaking anything like the tuition boosts which the Committee for Economic Development recom-

Banks ponder customer lures

By JOHN CUNNIFF AP Business Analyst

CHICAGO (AP) - You might see your banking future in the displays at the McCormick Place convention center here. The American Bankers Association is holding its annual meeting, and what do you suppose they've attracted?

Racks of dishes and silverware, displays of stuffed dolls, trays of jewelry. There are Bible salesmen and salesmen of hand-lettered scrolls, and a manufacturer of chimes and carillons who wants banks to ring in the nation's bicentennial.

The Christmas display companies are demonstrating how, with holly and wreaths and candy canes and trees, a bank can transform itself into the spirit of Santa Claus. Christmas is a time for spending, they say.

A grass seed company is urging bankers to offer "horticultural premiums," the suggestion being that the depositor's grass will grow even if his savings might not.

Need it be said that the banks want your money these days, even if they are reluctant to part with theirs in the form of a home mortgage? And they are willing to try almost any enticement, including high interest rates, to get it.

The assortment of premiums on display seems to suggest that if competition by interest rate fails - and to some extent it might have - the banks will be fighting furiously with pre-

Mere weeks ago some banks thought they had a great thing in their "wild card" CDs - certificates of deposit unrestricted by rate limitations. But then they found a good deal of the money came not from the outside sources but from the passbooks of their own depositors.

The future of retail banking, and to some extent of society too, is demonstrated by the large number of

The dune buggy and other off-road vehicles can be jolly fun; no doubt of it. They also are potential spoilers of the natural terrain into which they, unlike other vehicles, can venture at

Thus we consider it an act in the public interest that the Agriculture Department has at last gotten under way its program for control of offroad vehicles. Regulations banning or restricting operation of such vehicles on the millions of acres administered by the U.S. Forest Service are to be put into effect gradually over a four-year period.

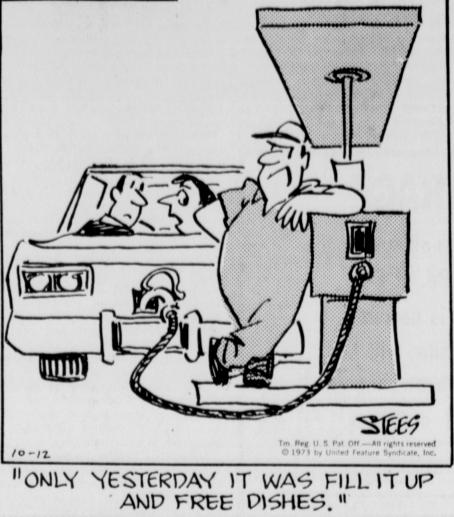

Our only quarrel with this is the length of time involved. A lot of damage can be done in a year. This is particularly true of the seemingly tough but actually fragile desert terrain found in the Southwest.

A recent comment on this by Dr. Stahrl W. Edmunds, director of the Dry Lands Research Institute at the University of California in Riverside, is instructive. "Destruction of the desert's vegetative cover," he observed, "in turn increases the ravages of erosion by wind and

He did not imply that off-road vehicles alone are to blame, but they are an important factor. Their harmful impact is significant in arousing fears, as Dr. Edmunds reminds us, "that certain desert areas may become new dustbowls." Regulations of off-road vehicles on public lands is welcome, but much harm already has been done. A speedup in the program would be advisable.

Loggers and foresters have recorded Douglas firs 330 feet high, 45 feet around the trunk and more than 1,400 years old - each containing enough lumber to build 10 two-bedroom frame houses.

Like the Eiffel Tower or the Coca-Cola sign, you forget its nationality and come to consider it your own, even if you're from such faraway places as Israel, or Rhodesia, like myself.

Voyaging to the island of the Statue of Liberty on a sunny Sunday, I found myself surrounded mainly by other foreigners. As we disembarked there was a babble of tongues, marvelling at the immensity of the 87-year-old lady.

I — and perhaps many of my fellow tourists — felt as though I was visiting a relative I had never before met.

On the grassy slopes of the island, Israelis mingled with Arabs, white South Africans with blacks, East Europeans with Westerners.

On a small outdoor stage, an Egyptian folksinger performed for the crowd. Among those who clapped delightedly to his rhythm was a Cairoborn Israeli.

An old Polish woman listened intently as her daughter excitedly told her Liberty was the world's biggest statue

A Japanese father laboriously translated the barrage of statistics presented in Liberty's museum, while his children nodded in awe as he reeled off each figure.

Two orthodox Jews from Israel were arguing vehemently over whether the statue could collapse. "It's nearly a century old," protested one. "So the Wailing Wall stood for 2,000 years," said the other.

Dear Abby: By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Her cleaning woman

is tops, also light-fingered

DEAR ABBY: For the last year I have employed an excellent cleaning woman who has also done my laundry She is immaculate, quiet, and hasn't missed a day's work. She is the sole support of several fatherless children, so I have been extremely generous in giving her leftover food and even collecting children's clothing from my friends of her youngsters.

From time to time I've missed a few items. Panties, hosiery, towels. Nothing very valuable.

Suddenly she shows up wearing a pair of silver hoop earrings which looked familiar. I went to my drawer, and sure enough, mine were missing! I asked her where she got the earrings, and she said she couldn't remember. Abby, I know they are mine! Now I am wondering if I should ask her to give me my house key and tell her why I don't want her to work for me any more. I feel so guilty considering such a thing because I know how much she needs the money. So what should I do? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: The woman is apparently simple-minded or she never would have worn in your presence the earrings she stole from you. Tell her you know she has been stealing, but if she returns the stolen items and promises not to take anything else, you will give her another chance. If she accepts those terms, keep her. And if she steals again, send her on her way. DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister lost a full-term baby. He was born dead. We sent a sympathy card addressed to her and her husband. They were offended.

The father-in-law told me you shouldn't send sympathy cards in a case like this. Tell me, Abby, were my husband and I right or wrong? UNIONTOWN, PA.

DEAR UNIONTOWN: You were

DEAR ABBY: When our children misbehave, which isn't very often, my husband spanks them severely. And I mean he really lays a heavy hand on

Worse yet, for a long time afterwards he keeps threatening to give them the same treatment if they don't behave themselves. This causes the children to feel nervous and frightened most of the time, which makes them resent them. I've noticed the resentment growing lately

Abby, how can I let him know that the spanking alone is sufficient punishment and his constant threats are neither wise nor necessary?

And how do you like this kind of behavior from a man who has two college degrees and a father who used to beat him up?

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF DEAR HISTORY: History need not repeat itself. Tell Father that his punishment is cruel and excessive and it's damaging the relationship between him and his children, so cut it out. And it might not hurt to have your husband examined physically and mentally. Two college degrees don't give one immunity from illness.

CONFIDENTIAL TO OLD-TIMER IN PALM BEACH: Before you put down the youth of today, read this: "Our youth now love luxury. They have bad manners, contempt for authority; they show disrespect for their elders. and love chatter in places of exercise. They no longer rise when elders enter the room. They contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble up their food, and tyrannize their teachers.' (Socrates wrote that in the 5th Century, B.C.)

Putting it another way, Michiko Miyamura, 24, a comely, dark-eyed Japanese, says: "God's heart is very sad when He looks at conditions of the world. God is crying. We're working to help the heavenly Father, to make God happy. When God feels pleasure, I feel pleasure.

The two women are among about 1,000 young people from many nations now working throughout the United States in 50 mobile bus units to call America back to its founding religious principles.

Their effort is called the "One World Crusade," organized by a Korean visionary, the Rev. Sun Myung Moon, founder of a fast-growing movement named the Holy Spirit Association for the Unification of World Christianity. For short, it's called the Unification Church.

Its advocates, somewhat like members of religious orders, pledge their commitment to the cause for periods of one to three years, serving full time without pay, being housed and fed in communal accommodations wherever they happen to be

The traveling international brigade holds rallies, gives lectures, does personal evangelizing on the streets. Its members also move in force into cities where the Rev. Mr. Moon, now on a four-month, 21-city tour, is to appear, selling tickets to his lectures.

Because of the all-out way they flood a city with his name, on posters, by radio and television, in newspaper ads and in sidewalk conversations, they're sometimes called "Moon people." They

Vesper service planned Sunday at church farm

An unusual worship event is being planned for members of the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church this Sunday evening, weather permitting, at the church farm near Bloomingburg.

The service will be in the form of an informal vesper service, part of which will be led by the young people of the church, and a service of thanks and dedication led by the pastor.

Those attending are asked to bring folding chairs and blankets with them. Parking will be available in the wooded area of the farm, and lanterns will provide light. The campfire area is being cleaned and the wood prepared by the young men of the church's Scout troop under the direction of Bill Cales.

A bus will leave the church at 7:30 p.m. to take those who need transportation to the farm. The service will get under way at 8 p.m. and will be over by 9 p.m. In case of rain or wet grounds, the service will be cancelled.

The congregation received the church farm in 1934 from the estate of Miss Mary Edwards. It has been used strictly for crops in the past, but it is hoped that in the future the wooded area of the farm can be developed into a picnic and camping area for families of the church.

residents who are not members of the church are invited to take part in the vesper service as well. Prior to the service, the Youth Council will meet at the church to make plans for future events, and the briefly before going to the service.

Communicants Class will also meet

It is emphasized that community speak of the church founder in highly adulatory terms, sometimes attrib-uting almost mystical qualities to him. 'He's very, very wonderful," said Miss Miyamura. "Before him, I couldn't believe. I was looking for God and could not find God. But he gave me the Gospel and vision and hope. Said Miss Connell: "I had been working as a secretary but was looking for deeper meaning in life, to do something of more value to mankind.

Jeff Progress Club hears book review

Mrs. Otho Fent entertained the Jeffersonville Progress Club for the first autumn meeting. Mrs. Robert Owens, president, read the poem 'Autumn,' and welcomed all present She also conducted the business session. Members answered roll call by naming and describing a room in the White House

Mrs. Fent reviewed the book, "The White House Memoir," by Timothy G. Smith, who wrote the book from unpublished notes and writings of his father, Merriman Smith, a White House correspondent.

She told of how Franklin D. Roosevelt's years was one of grandeur. and to many he was a 'king! He had a regal air that caused the people to know that he was always in command.

President Eisenhower was a calm, deliberate and unruffled figure of an elder leader, who had seen just about every kind of crisis the world could produce.

Kennedy was aware of his youth and felt the need to prove himself, but kept a direct contact with his cabinet officers. He became a vibrant, smiling, waving and active man, and won a place in the hearts of the nation, she Lyndon Johnson was quiet and sincere about his economy drive in government. His years in the White House reflected an entirely different style, reserving himself for the 'big decisions' and taking the long view of problems instead of bouncing from crisis to crisis.

Following this interesting review of the popular book, the hostess served a salad course.

Mrs. Owens will be the next hostess.

Class donates to church fund

Members of the In His Service Class William Purcell was a guest, and led of the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church gave a donation of $50.00 to the building fund for the new parsonage, when they met recently in the home of Mrs. George Combs. ## Church Day is observed by United Methodist Women

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Grace United Methodist Church held its monthly Church Day Wednesday. Haynie Circle was hostess for the carry-in noon luncheon that preceeded the business meeting.

Mrs. William Shepard had a lovely worship table with a wicker cornucopia of harvest fruits and vegetables, an arrangement of yellow and rust hued mums, a burning candle, and a Bible upon a yellow cloth. Her Bible reading was from Ecclesiastes and her theme, as demonstrated by a selection of Norman Vincent Peale was: "Love life and life will love you back.

Mrs. C.L. Lewellen, chairman for World Community Day for Church Women United, described the outstanding program planned for this event on Nov. 2. Mrs. Billie Wilson is in charge of the noon luncheon which the Society will prepare.

Nov. 7 is a red-letter day for Grace United Methodist Church, for it marks the local Celebration of Methodist Women of a new purpose, a new organization, and a new spirit as all committ anew the diversity of gifts that are of One Spirit. The Washington C.H. community is cordially invited to join in the Celebration of praise and joy.

The program, a very special one, will last from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and will be followed by a tea for which the Methodist women are baking hundreds of cookies in their homes.

At 1:30 p.m. Nov. 13, in the Methodist chapel, will be held for a second time the ceremony initiated last year of the Opening of the Talent Jars, where in the monies earned from the individual's year-long use of her talents will be poured out, counted, and dedicated to the service of Christ.

Calendars should be marked for Nov. 17 for that popular and much anticipated event, Wesleyan Service Guild's Christmas bazaar. Rgaland Circle will prepare lunch for this event.

Today's business meeting was followed by a panel reporting on the National Assembly which met in described the event of the Assembly that seemed most outstanding to each individual. The enthusiasm was immense. This Assembly convenes nationally every four years. Over 8,000 Methodist women from the 50 states and all over the world poured into

Cincinnati from Oct. 4-7. 1973's Assembly is a landmark in Methodist

Queen Esther Class elects new officers

New officers were elected by the Queen Esther Class of First Christian Church when the members met in the home of Mrs. Ona Miller. Mrs. Mabel Whitmer, president, conducted the meeting. Those elected were Mrs. Daisy Moffitt, president; Mrs. Whitmer, vice president; Mrs. Blanche Purcell, secretary; Mrs. Wilma Vanway, treasurer; and Mrs. Leora Graham, reporter.

Devotions were presented by Mrs. Hazel McNorton concerning 'Thanksgiving." She also read Scripture and other appropriate readings. There were 10 members and one guest, Mrs. William Rockhold, present. Reports were made by Mrs. Pursell and Mrs. Vanway. The group will provide a poinsettia for the church for the holidays, and also make a project for a worthy cause. Cards were signed for the ill.

A carry-in dinner is being planned for December, with the place and time to be announced later.

Hostesses for the evening with Mrs. Miller were Mrs. McNorton, Mrs. Exie Breakfield and Mrs. Esta Schwartz.

DAYP Club makes cushions

DP&L participates in power expansion

DAYTON — The Dayton Power and will be located at East Bend in Boone Light Co. has announced plans to participate in the construction of three electric generating facilities which will cost more than $900 million.

These will include units for two new coal-fired generating plants, and another unit to be built at the Zimmer Nuclear Power Station near Moscow,

Robert B. Killen, president of DP&L, said his company and the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. will share the ownership and electric output of the two new stations. The two companies and Columbus and Southern Ohio the Zimmer Station.

CG&E will be responsible for planning, constructing and operating of one of the new generating stations which system when perfected and if needed.

THE SECOND Zimmer unit will have A 600,000 kilowatt unit is planned for a generating capacity of about one million kilowatts, Killen said. It will be scheduled for completion in the early 1980's, and is expected to cost about $500 million

For the past 10 years, Killen said, DP&L has been participating with neighboring utility companies in the construction of large, jointly-owned generating units in order to obtain an economy of scale advantage. He explained that it costs less to buy, less to build and takes fewer personnel to operate a 600,000 kilowatt unit, for example, than it does for two 300,000 kilowatt units.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) - This Saturday afternoon, television viewers will get a welcome respite from the shock of the Spiro T. Agnew story as NBC-TV broadcasts the opening game of the World Series.

Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, the initial word of the Agnew case came as they watched NBC's coverage of Wednesday's National League championship series game between the New York Mets and the Cincinnati Reds

At 2:35 p.m. EDT, NBC's picture of a baseball game was replaced by one of Agnew. The roar of the ballpark crowd was silenced for a brief report on Agnew's unexpected resignation as vice president.

CBS-TV put out the story at the same time. Four minutes later, ABC-TV regular daytime shows resumed, interrupted sporadically for updates on the Agnew story in reports that ranged working under heavy time pressures, had announced Agnew specials for later that evening

The three specials didn't present startling new information. They effectively recapitulated the day's story and the federal probe leading to Agnew's resignation, traced his controversial public career from his days as Baltimore County executive and speculated at length on Agnew's replacement as vice president.

It was anchored by Walter Cronkite, who at the close of the earlier CBS Evening News gave a strongly sympathetic eulogy of sorts for Agnew, a man he's often criticized for his verbal assaults against the networks and certain publications.

Ohio Perspective

Theologian sees religious revival

By HELEN CARRINGER Education Editor,

Akron Beacon Journal WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)-Theologian and activist William Stringfellow says an important religious revival is taking place outside the church.

Stringfellow, theologian-inresidence at the College of Wooster until Oct. 14, said he believes the revival is of "considerably more depth and significance than a revival of the early '50s.

He says he finds the "Jesus Movement" and other religious youth movements encouraging in that the young people are trying to read and comprehend the Bible on their own. "They have rejected the conventional churches that have social and cultural origins but masquerade with a religious appearance," he said in a recent interview. "In the communities they have formed, some are trying to find again the kind of community the church is described as in the Acts of the Apostles," he added.

The slight, intense author is critical of churchs and institutions "which claim the name 'Christian' but have become profoundly secularized. He calls himself a "Biblical person" in preference to "Christian" to include teachings of Judaism as well as Christianity

In the religious revival, he looks to a return to monasticism as one of the best hopes for retaining sanity and resisting turning into technological robots.

He says that by monasticism he means "enclaves or groups of people in which civility and intelligence are harbored and ideas are nurtured" rather than old-time monastaries.

'The role society now sets before everyone is not living," Stringfellow says. He says the public is so assaulted by official deception and hypnotic types of merchandising that it must find a quiet "place of contemplation to begin to make some sense.

"Being a robot in public life and a spectator (of television and commercial sports) and consumer in private life, concerned with the acquisition of swimming pools and similar material things, requires the surrender of sanity," Stringfellow

Really living involves being grateful for and using our full capacity as human beings, a responsibility for all other human beings," he says, adding: "To be human inherently means political involvement.

Sell arms to Israel, rabbi urges nation

WESTERVILLE, Ohio (AP) - The United States should "sell, not give Israel all it needs" in the Mideast War. Rabbi Richard L. Rubenstein told an Otterbein College audience Thursday.

Rabbi Rubenstein, who also is an author who serves on the faculty of Florida State University, said the U.S. should help Israel because the Russians are providing assistance to the Arabs. He said the war was designed as "a Russian trap for America."

Lion Cubs register fourth win in row

The Washington C.H. junior high football team, behind a four-touchdown performance by Jeff Elliott, rolled to an easy 30-0 victory over Wilmington Thursday at Wilmington.

At the same time, the Washington C.H. freshman football team, was losing its fourth straight contest, at the hands of Wilmington, 22-6.

THE LION Cubs traveled to Wilmington with a record of 3-0 and had allowed only 16 points in 12 quarters. When returning home the Blue Lions had still only given up 16 points and had scored 122 points in 16 quarters.

Washington C.H.'s junior high allowed only two first downs to the punchless Wilmington team. The biggest gain Wilmington could put together on one play was six vards. Wilmington runners continuously found themselves in the grasp of the powerful Blue Lion defenders led by Doug Stewart and Gary Huysman.

But the difference in the contest was the Washington C.H. offensive attack led by Elliott

Elliott scored four different times to totally baffle the Wilmington defense. The first score Elliott produced was a 44-yard run in the first quarter. Greg Tillet scored the extras and the Lions led 8-0 after the first quarter.

The second touchdown for the Lion Cubs came on a 32-yard run by Elliott in the second quarter. Devik Hargo then passed to Tony West for the extra points and Washington C.H. led 16-0 at

The third quarter started with Wilmington kicking off and Elliott returning the kick 90 yards for the score. The extras were made by Larry Brickles and Washington C.H. held a commanding lead.

The final score came on an 11-yard run by Elliott late in the fourth quarter. The extras failed, but Washington C.H. held on through the fourth quarter with the second string finishing up the

Coach Roger Mickle reported that

this game was by far the best performance by his team thus far this season. Mickle also said that the outstanding game played by Elliott was made possible by the offensive line and its ability to fire-out and open holes for the runners. Mickle explained that the offensive line played the best game he has seen in all his years as a junior high

On the offensive line are, Gary Hysman, Bobby Shaw, Rich Allen, Doug Stewart, Dwayne Six, Chester Hollar, Bobby Runnels and Terry

Meanwhile, the Washington C.H. freshman team was still having its problems in trying to mount any kind of scoring threat.

On Wilmington's first possession the Lion frosh allowed a 60-yard touchdown pass to be completed. The extras were also good and the Hurricane led by

IN THE second quarter Wilmington scored again. This time on a 25-yard run up the middle. But Washington C.H. failed to mount any consistency in its offensive assignments.

The third quarter remained scoreless throughout with both teams failing to cross the goal-line.

Then, in the fourth quarter, Wilmington put together another pass for a touchdown. The extras were again good and Wilmington led 22-0.

Washington C.H. finally tallied six points on a blocked punt with Randy Aills picking the ball up and carrying it to the end zone. The extra point attempt ### the defense-minded Lions. But a Washington C.H. win, coupled with a Circleville victory over Miami Trace in the other important SCOL showdown tonight, would give the Blue Lions sole possession of the SCOL's top perch.

Rookie head coach Ron Wilt has revived the once-feared belly series in his debut at Wilmington, but the Lions have a stubborn defense which has fired five straight shutouts and is strong against the run up the middle.

Twice-beaten Wilmington is fresh from a hard-fought 23-20 win over defending champion Circleville in last week's SCOL fireworks. Wilmington's other win was a 42-6 drubbing of winless Hillsboro.

Miami Trace will be risking a precious skein when Circleville comes calling for the 8 p.m. appointment Trace gridiron since the 1971 cam-

Head coach Fred Zechman, who has been highly successful in his extensive rebuilding program this autumn, will be facing a Circleville team, which incidentally, handed the Panthers their last league loss with a 24-7 verdict a vear ago. Miami Trace has won 10 of its last 11 SCOL outings.

The Panthers, who opened their SCOL crusade a week later than the rest of the teams, popped Hillsboro 28-0 a week ago and will be looking for their second straight league win.

The game between the Panthers and head coach Larry Cook's Tigers also marks Miami Trace's annual Homecoming celebration.

ELSEWHERE on the SCOL worksheet tonight, an improved Greenfield team will be visiting Madison Plains. Greenfield, under the direction of new head coach Fred Brisker, is featuring its best team in six years, dating back to the 1967 campaign when the Tigers posted an 8-2 allgames record.

Greenfield and Madison Plains will be matching identical 0-5 overall records. The Tigers have dropped two contests inside the SCOL race, while Madison Plains had a non-league date with state-ranked Jonathan Alder last Friday and is 0-1 in the league

Hillsboro, suffering a five-game nosedive, has monumental task on its chart tonight. Head coach Mike Doyle's Indians will be clashing with stateranked Frankfort Adena on the Warrior gridiron. Frankfort is unbeaten in five starts and the SCOL already shows a lowly 7-16 record this season against non-league competition.

Gary Player goes after golf prize

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) Gary Player, fit again after illness, is going after the world's top "sudden death" golf prize again.

The 36-year-old South African faced U.S. Open champion Johnny Miller in the semifinals of the Piccadilly World Match Play Tournament today. America's Tom Weiskopf, the defending champion, was paired against Graham Marsh of Australia in the other semifinal.

Player was in impressive form in the first round Thursday, cruising around Wentworth's "Burma Road" course to beat Tony Jacklin of Britain 3 and 2 over 36 holes

The South African is a "founder member" of this 10-year-old event, which features eight specially invited golfers in man-to-man confrontation, bidding for a top prize of $25,-000

OAKLAND (AP) — The A's attempt to garner their second consecutive world championship and the Mets go after their second world title ever Saturday when American League champion Oakland and National League champion New York meet in Game One of the 1973 World Series.

The Mets, considered a gang of miracle workers when they won the best-of-seven Series in 1969, catapulted from last place near the end of the 1973 season into the National League playoffs and then defeated Cincinnati for the right to play for the championship of professional baseball.

A succession of injuries hampered the Mets this past season as they stumbled along the bottom of the standings. Many fans demanded Manager Yogi Berra be fired and several players were criticized for their performances. But Berra remained as manager, the injuries healed, the players jelled into a unified team and the Mets captured 20 out of 28 games in September and assumed first place in the NL East

They beat Cincinnati 7-2 in the fifth and deciding game of the NL playoffs Wednesday and won the league pen-

The A's started slowly in the season but shifted into high gear with a ninegame winning streak in July to take command in the AL West.

The A's boast a strong pitching staff and a powerful squad of batters headed by Reggie Jackson. The Mets' strength is pitching and two-thirds of New York's 1969 World Series starting staff remains. Right-hander Tom Seaver, the only finished the regular season with a 19-10 record, a league-leading earned run average of 2.08. He led the NL with 251 Jerry Koosman, the southpaw who won two 1969 series games, ended the regular season with a 14-15 mark and an ERA of 2.81. The newest addition to the Mets' starting trio is 23-year-old 1972 Rookie of the Year Jon Matlack. Matlack

and hairline skull fracture suffered

May to post a 14-16 record.

The Mets starters are backed up by reliever Tug McGraw, who coined the phrase "You Gotta Believe," which was shouted by Mets fans as they watched their team race to the league pennant.

Cleon Jones, John Milner and Rusty Staub provide the Mets' batting punch. On defense, the Mets are strong with the double-play combination of shortstop Bud Harrelson and second baseman Felix Millan. Righthander Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 21-5 with a 3.34 ERA, who won the A's pennant clinching game against Baltimore Thursday, heads the Oakland pitching staff. The other lateraled back to Art Schlichter for a 40-yard touchdown run to start the scoring off. Schlichter made the extras and the Cowboys held the lead. Schlichter scored again on a one-yard run, plus he took the extras across to give the Cowboys 16 points.

The scores for the Browns came on a 23-yard pass to Brant Knisley from Hennesey with Hennesey also packing the extras. The second score for the Browns came on a one-yard run by Shane Riley. The extras failed and that was the difference in the contest. The Browns had another try at going ahead but failed to pick up a first down to hold possession of the football deep in their opponents territory.

The Miami Trace freshman will host Wilmington at 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

A 16-year-old Jeffersonville boy was found to be delinquent by Juvenile Court Judge Rollo M. Marchant and was placed on probation. He had been charged with possession of marijuana.

A 14-year-old Washington C.H. boy, charged with petty theft and malicious destruction of property, was found to be delinquent and was placed on probation under Marshall D. Boggs, an officer of the court.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED

David E. Redden, Killeen, Tex., has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against Hidy's Super Value, charging that he was falsely arrested in September, 1971, on a warrant for check fraud.

According to the petition, Redden spent some three months in jail before the case was dismissed at the request of the prosecutor. He claims loss of earnings ($1,200), loss of his automobile ($500), physical and mental distress and public humiliation and embarrassment, ($20,000). He seeks a total of $21,700 damages.

Court dismisses defrauding charge

Acting Judge Omar A. Schwart presided over Municipal Court Thursday in the absence of Reed M. Winegardner, who is on vacation.

A charge of defrauding a taxicab driver, filed against a Springfield man, were dismissed and two persons forfeited bond when they failed to appear.

Cledes L. Riley, 36, Springfield, paid court costs after the fraud charge was dismissed.

Harvey T. Frisbie, 20, of 1126 E. Temple St., and Ronald L. Grisbie, 28, of 1310 S. Elm St., forfeited $50 bond each when they failed to appear to face charges of dumping trash along the banks of Paint Creek.

Action sought on short money

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Association of Realtors announced Thursday that its 500,000 members have launched a petition-signing and letter-writing campaign demanding Washington take prompt action to relieve the current mortgage money shortage.

J. D. Sawyer of Middletown, Ohio, association president, told a news conference that "millions of American consumers are suffering from the present economic conditions which have made the buying and selling of homes—and other property—almost impossible."

In addition to increasing home loan interest rates, that are now between 9 and 10 per cent, some firms have cut off mortgage loans completely.

"I have asked relators across the nation to gather petitions from the buyers and sellers of real estate," said Sawyer, "to present to their representatives in Congress, demanding that action be taken to relieve the extreme hardship faced by many of the 80 million property owners of America because of the current mortgage money crisis."

Sawyer, predicting that mortgage money will be tight until the second quarter of 1974, said, "For decades, relators and buyers have had to contend with an unpredictable market in mortgage money, subject to wild fluctuations and recurrent credit crunches.

"In the last six years alone, the real estate business has gone through the mortgage crisis wringer three times," he added."

Kent McGough, the party's state chairman, said Thursday night that a poll of members of the State Central and Executive Committee showed Rockefeller the first choice, followed, in order, by Gov. Ronald Reagan of California and U.S. Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich, the House Republican leader.

The chairman did not disclose how the voting went, but he said there was considerable support for the top three whose names are being forwarded to Washington for consideration by President Nixon.

Nixon has asked recommendations from members of Congress and state level party leaders as he considers nomination of a successor to former Vice President Spiro Agnew, who resigned Wednesday.

Nixon's choice requires approval of both houses of Congress.

Several other names were mentioned by members of the Ohio committee, which consists of a man and a woman from each of the state's 23 congressional districts.

They included both of the state's Republican senators, Robert Taft Jr. and William B. Saxbe. Taft said he did not want the nomination.

The junior senator from Cincinnati said his personal choices for vice president are presidential adviser Melvin Laird and U.S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart of Cincinnati. Saxbe said his mind still was "open"

represent "a negotiated choice."

Rep. Charles W. Whalen, R-Ohio, of Dayton, said he recommended the nomination of Taft, but that the senator replied "no" and told him he would

Speaking of Your Health... Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Diet May Cause Kidney Stones

I thought I had a high tolerance for pain until I had a kidney stone.

I live in dread that this will again come back. Could a change in my diet prevent their formation?

Mr. P.L., Fla. Dear Mr. L.:

Anyone who has ever had a stone in the kidney, or especially a tiny stone in the ureter, will surely sympathize with you.

The ureter is a thin tube that leads from the kidney to the urinary bladder. A very small stone composed of calcium or uric acid may be deposited in the ureter and distend it. The sharp, penetrating and radiating pain can be intense.

As the stone passes from one position to another and finally finds its way into the bladder, the pain changes in character and eventually disappears.

There are a great many factors that may be responsible for the formation of stones in the kidney, in the ureter, and in the urinary bladder itself. Long-standing infections and diseases which tend to increase the calcium level in the blood may play an important role in their formation. Gout, a condition more prevalent than most people realize, is responsible for high levels of uric acid in the blood. When untreated, small uric acid crystals can be desposited in the urinary tract, and cause the excruciating pain of a kidney stone.

Diet may play an important role in the creation of kidney stones that contain either calcium or uric acid.

If a uric acid tendency is present, foods that are known to be high in purine content must be eliminated from the diet. These foods include sardines, herrings, kidneys, sweetbreads, liver, and anchovies.

In addition to diet control, there are excellent drugs to reduce the accumulation of uric acid in the bloodstream.

When the underlying cause for the formation of your kidney stone has been determined and eliminated, the chances for a recurrence are minimized.

Satchell's car was heavily damaged. AN ACCIDENT at the intersection of U.S. 62 and Ohio 238 at 12:55 p.m. Thursday, involved Florence I. Boyer, 48, of 422 Van Deman St., who collided with a car driven by Michael D. Stayrook, 19, of New Holland, as Stayrook pulled away from a stop sign into the path of the Boyer car.

Damage to both autos was

A car collided with a semi-trailer rig Thursday at 7:45 a.m.

Karen Sue Mershon, 22, Jamestown Rd., was traveling northwest on U.S. 35 when a semi driven by William R. Daniels, 43, Nashville, pulled out from a private drive into the Mershon vehicle's path.

Moderate damage was done to the Mershon car and none to the semi. There were no injuries.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT involving a semi and its driver, Raymond E. Kern, 47, of Baltimore, Ohio, occurred Thursday at 11:09 a.m.

Kern was backing into an alley off of S. North Street when he struck a car driven by Lois J. Tillis, 35, of 513 S. Favette St. while she waited in the through lane of S. North Street for traffic to move.

The truck was damaged slightly and the car moderately.

A hitskip accident occurred in the Pennington Bakery parking lot at 4 p.m. Thursday.

Paul Cummings, 1003 Washington Ave., said there was no damage done to his vehicle when he left it at 7:45 a.m., but when he returned at 2 p.m., someone had sideswiped the left rear fender of his truck.

It's a 'special week'

By JEANNIE ANDERSON

4-H Assistant This week, Oct. 7-13, is National 4-H

This year's theme is "4-H Gets It All

Together.' Boys and Girls between the ages of 9 and 19 all over the nation are a part of this new challenging program in America's largest youth organization. New ideas and techniques are being pushed forward toward exciting goals in 4-H. Five and one half million boys and girls in 1973 set a record 4-H enrollment. While youth in rural and suburban areas continue to learn by doing, youth in the Inner City and other limited income areas find new opportunities for stretching their horizons through 4-H activities.

Those who sought more beautiful, healthful and inviting communities helped Extension explore new methods to develop better living conditions in roadsides, rural zoning, home sewage disposal, farming hazards, "Lets Plant a Tree" and health services are only a few areas that 4-H Extension had a hand in helping plan new and better

ISN'T THIS what we Americans try hard to provide for our children - a comfortable life and a liveable environment? Isn't it for them that we seek pleasant communities where they can live, work and play?

Environmental improvement offers exceptional opportunities for 4-H members and clubs to really learn about making decisions in scale with their abilities and evaluating consequences of those decisions. Boys and girls need to recognize community strengths and problems and given a chance to help seek solutions.

That is what 4-H is doing in our rural, and urban areas by reaching out to bring more people together "To Make The Best Better". 4-H is strong and growing all our 50 states.

Working together, growing together, learning together - that's what 4-H is all about in 1973 talked about at this week's meeting.

The gist of the discussion was that people throughout the area should be encouraged to visit the Airport to see for themselves the number of planes that fly in and out all day. It was brought out, too, that an average of 20 light planes for personal use are based

The dozen pilots at the meeting also discussed the possibility of installing a rotating beacon. They got hung up, however, on the estimated cost of $600. This would augment the radio beacon which was installed about four months ago. The county shared the radio beacon expense and the Pilots Association expressed the hope that a rotating beacon could be a cooperative

Veep announcement scheduled tonight

Nixon decided today on a nominee to succeed Spiro T. Agnew as vice president, and the White House said he would announce the choice in a 9 p.m. EDT television address to the nation.

The nominee himself will be advised of the selection shortly before that address, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said.

The White House announcement came amid a wave of speculation about possible choices to succeed Agnew, who resigned Wednesday and did not contest a charge of federal income tax evasion.

Ziegler said Nixon reviewed possible candidates Thursday night at Camp David, Md., and made the final choice this morning.

Nixon met at the white House with the Republican congressional leaders Sen. Hugh Scott and Rep. Gerald Ford. Those separate meetings were said to be for discussion of procedures Congress will follow in handling the vice presidential nomination.

The President's nominee would take the nation's No. 2 office upon confirmation by both houses of the Democraticcontrolled Congress. Nixon also conferred with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

The White House said Nixon would make his announcement in an address from the East Room, before an audience of members of Congress, the Cabinet, the Supreme Court, other government officials, and diplomats. It was a day of speculation in Washington.

Friends of John B. Connally of Texas reported the former Texas governor and Nixon Cabinet member had been offered the nomination.

But a source in the Texas congressional delegation said he would not be the nominee. Connally himself was in Texas and there remained between the Israelis unavailable for comment. His Houston

But Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the Senate Republican leader, shook his head in the negative when asked whether Ford had been selected. Though Connally's stock with Nixon is unquestioned, there are growing signs that the former Democrat and Texas governor could face a long and troublesome confirmation by Congress. 'If the President names Connally, that would split both parties," said a leading Democratic senator. Another congressional source predicted flatly

Mandatory fuel allocation plan pushed by solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — A mandatory would be "a strong disincentive on fuel allocation bill is gaining ground in needed new production." But the bill's Congress despite the Nixon administration's plans to announce today its own more limited program.

White House energy officials told the House Rules Committee Thursday that the administration program covering heating oil, kerosene, jet and diesel fuel would be based generally on 1972 distributions. Under the program, the government will have power to redistribute from 5 to 10 per cent of supplies in the future to areas experiencing hardships.

They also said states would be asked to set up hardship review boards. The administration recently imposed government control on distribution of propane gas.

These moves mean government control of distribution at the wholesale level, as opposed to consumer rationing

White House energy chief John A. Love told the House committee it would be "the better part of wisdom to not enact this bill at this time."

But the committee voted 11 clear the way for a House vote on the bill, which may come next week. The Senate has passed a similar measure. Unlike the House proposal, the administration's program does not cover crude oil and gasoline. The bill would direct the President to set up within 25 days a mandatory allocation system covering crude oil, residual oil, and refined petroleum products including gasoline, kerosene, home heating oil, propane, butane, refined lubricating oil and diesel fuel. Love argued that allocations of crude oil are "not called for or necessary at

Washington C.H. Police Department to the rank of police specialist was announced today by City Manager Dan to 8,000 dead and wounded Wolford said Patrolmen Dennis Brown, William Robinson, Larry Walker and William Cales were promoted to the new position created by City Council in April. The promotions were based on certification from the Civil Service Commission. Testing dates were June 21 and Sept. Police Chief Rodman Scott said these four offices will be assigned more technical and advanced investigative and enforcement tasks in the various phases of police work. Such duties may include both plain-clothes and uniformed assignments. At the onset of the new concept, only one man will be assigned as a plain-clothes officer.

THE PROMOTION advances each of the officers one step on the Police Department's pay scale. The next step is the rank of sergeant. At that level, policemen are involved in a supervisory capacity, Scott said.

One of the new police specialists will be assigned strictly as an investigator and the other three will remain as uniformed officers and will be responsible for direct action and preliminary investigation of all crimes and incidents.

'A major advantage is the flexibility the new positions permits by allowing the rotation of the investigator from within the ranks of the specialist as well as being able to draw from additional qualified personnel if and when an emergency would require additional investigation," Scott said.

A bill went to Congress Thursday to of the original Watergate grand jury for up to one year if it needs the extra time to complete its business

In a letter to House Speaker Carl Albert, Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson noted that the grand jury's 18-month term expires Dec. 5, and can be extended only by Congress.

In related matters:

-Four Cuban exiles who pleaded guilty to charges stemming from the June 17, 1972, Watergate break-in, told the court that even in federal prison they regarded Hunt as their clandestine supervisor and that he briefed each of them before they were called for questioning by federal investigators and the grand jury. The four-Eugenio R. Martinez, Virgilio R. Gonzalez, Frank A. Sturgis and Bernard L. Barker-filed affidavits in U.S. District Court to support their claims that they pleaded guilty only because they thought they were protecting a secret national security operation. They have asked to have their pleas thrown out.

—Cox filed a brief opposing release of the four and Hunt on bail while their requests are pending. Cox said the men have a history that "indicates the repeated use of aliases, false identifications, and false documents." If they were released, he said, they still could obtain such material and it would "increase immeasureably the risk of

The Chamber directors also were briefed on Ohio Senate Bill No. 377. which deals with emergency ambulance service, but no course of action was taken at Thursday's meeting.

In other business, a bylaws study committee was appointed under the direction of Second Vice President Jack Brennan, and directors were asked to study a proposed policy manual and be prepared to act on it at the November meeting. Also, a midyear retreat, possibly to be held in December, was considered by the directors.

War bill gets final approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — Landmark restraints on presidential war-making powers were expected to receive final congressional approval in the House today before heading for President Nixon's certain veto.

Backers said they would be watching today's vote for an indication of whether they can muster the two-thirds vote needed to override a veto.

The Senate's 75-20 approval Wednesday of the war powers compromise bill worked out by House-Senate conferees was well over two-thirds. But the House approved its original version 244 to 170, or 32 votes short of what would be needed to override a veto.

The President has said he would veto any bill that contains concepts he says are "dangerous and unconstitutional restrictions" on his executive powers. These remain in the compromise bill.

Damascus Radio said today that "Israeli pilots have become so demoralized that they often bail out the moment they reach Syrian skies," and it claimed the Israeli commanders were chaining the pilots to their plane seats. The Syrian news agency distributed a photograph of a burned military spokesman. Israel also reported about 35 to 40 Katyusha rockets were fired by Palestinian guerrillas in southern Lebanon at eight Jewish settlements. It said one person was wounded but no serious damage was reported.

In Washington, Pentagon sources said the U.S. government is readying planeloads of artillery shells and antitank ammunition to be rushed to Israel, but plans to send planes and tanks were still tentative. It was indicated that the ammunition would be carried by Israeli transport planes from remote bases in the United States. Pentagon officials said the Soviet Union has flown at least 80 big AN12 transport planes to Syria with antiaircraft missiles, antitank rockets and other war materiel. They said there also had been a smaller supply airlift to Egypt.

U. N. again seeks Mideast peace plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) -The U.N. Security Council tries again today to come up with a Middle East peace formula after a plea from Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim for council members to "redouble their efforts.

But there appeared to be no prospect of a break in the deadlock between the United States, supporting Israel, and the Arabs' Soviet and Chinese backers.

The council waged a four-hour war of words Thursday night, but came no closer to ending the fighting in the Middle East.

Waldheim expressed hope that the council would try harder to get a ceasefire and "a just and lasting settlement.

He also called on Israel, Egypt and Syria to "consider alternative courses before it is too late" and warned that continued fighting may create "a wider threat to international peace and security.

Much of the third day of the debate centered on reports from the Egyptian and Syrian fronts

Syria charged Israel with "massacre and genocide," saying it was using napalm and bombing civilians. Egypt said Israeli planes had scattered booby traps in the Nile delta.

Israel asserted that while council members were preparing to meet, Syria was attacking northern Israel villages with rockets.

Stock prices rise again

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market today continued its rally, based on investor optimism about the state of the economy, but some analysts were worried that the market was overextending itself.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 7.42 at 983.52. It had been up more than 10 points earlier and had closed more than 13 points higher on Thursday. The dow blue chip indicator has risen about 100 points in a month.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was up 1.33 at 110.15. McCulloch Oil, up 1/2 at 61/4, was the Amex volume leader

On the Big Board, the volume leader was Dayton Hudson, down 11/8 at 131/2. The Big Board's broad-based index of some 1,500 common stocks was up .43 at

Pomona Grangers consider issues

NEW MARTINSBURG - Master Nathaniel Tway explained Issue No. 1, which will come to a vote in the Nov. 6 election, at the Pomona Grange meeting in the Forest Shade Grange hall here Thursday night. Issue No. 1 provides for a revision of the state tax laws to assess farm land on the basis of its current use value rather than its potential value for industrial or residential development.

He also read a communication explaining the need for a new Miami Trace District junior high school. A $2,036,000 bond issue proposal to build the school and also take care of maintenance and improvements of existing elementary schools at an estimated cost of $375,000. The bonds. he pointed out, would be retired over a 22-year period with an average tax of 2.15 mills.

The Pomona Grange meetings normally have very good attendance, but Thursday night it was cut almost in half because many of the men were working late in the fields.

Following the business session. Mrs. Charles Cook, the lecturer, presented a program of readings and told a ghost story with audience participation.

Forest Shade Grangers served refreshments.

The new facility, which will be called the Autumn Years Nursing Center, will be located on the east edge of Sabina on U.S. 22, directly across from the Sabina church camp.

Modern Sales Construction Co., of Wilmington, is handling the construction. The target date for completion is Jan. 1, 1974.

The new nursing center will be operated by the Healthco Facilities Corp., of Sabina. Healthco's officers are Paul Hoffman, of Columbus, president; Douglas Terry, of Hillsboro, vice president; Mrs. Geraldine Hoffman, secretary, and Mrs. Paula Terry,

Hoffman and Terry are owners of the Eden Manor Nursing Home in Sabina.

THE ONE-FLOOR brick building will meet or exceed all state and federal safety standards, according to Terry. Among the safety features are an automatic water sprinkler system and an automatic smoke detection device. As an added safety feature the internal fire alarm systems will be connected directly to the Sabina Fire Department.

The colonial design structure is situated on a four-acre tract next to Uhl's IGA Foodliner. Features of the building will include both large lounge and small lounge areas, a spacious dining room, beauty shop and exam therapy and recreational therapy

Opinion And Comment Two higher education reports

Coincidence rather than collusion, one assumes, brought two significant reports on higher education to public notice on the same day recently. The reports nevertheless complement one another to a surprising degree.

The Committee for Economic Development recommended an expanded system of student aid. coupled with college tuition increases that would more than double the present rates. At the same time, the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education called for more emphasis on alternatives to college education after graduation from high school.

The Carnegie Commission is on solid ground in suggesting that college is not the only road to a satisfying and useful life. We concur in its view that there should be more governmental support for alternative "post-secondary education" programs - such things as job trainig under union or employer auspices,

Peace Corps or Vista service. church and civic organizational training, private specialty schooling in preparation for a job.

As the Commission acknowledges, however, college education leading to an academic degree "is an absolutely essential part" of the educational scene. This brings us to those motivated to secure a degree. and to the problems they would face if average tuition charges were boosted from the present $413 to $996 as the Committee for Economic Development recommends.

It is only fair to note the CED's insistence "that under our proposal the increases in tuition are intended not to precede but to follow or coincide with the availability of funds to the prospective students to pay that tuition." The report urges an expansion of student loan and grant programs to keep pace with tuition increases imposed over periords of from five to 10 years.

CHICAGO (AP) - You might see your banking future in the displays at the McCormick Place convention center here. The American Bankers Association is holding its annual meeting, and what do you suppose they've attracted?

Racks of dishes and silverware, displays of stuffed dolls, trays of jewelry. There are Bible salesmen and salesmen of hand-lettered scrolls, and a manufacturer of chimes and carillons who wants banks to ring in the nation's bicentennial.

The Christmas display companies are demonstrating how, with holly and wreaths and candy canes and trees, a bank can transform itself into the spirit of Santa Claus. Christmas is a time for spending, they say.

A grass seed company is urging bankers to offer "horticultural premiums," the suggestion being that the depositor's grass will grow even if his savings might not.

Need it be said that the banks want your money these days, even if they are reluctant to part with theirs in the form of a home mortgage? And they are willing to try almost any enticement, including high interest rates, to get it.

The assortment of premiums on display seems to suggest that if competition by interest rate fails - and to some extent it might have — the banks will be fighting furiously with pre-

Mere weeks ago some banks thought they had a great thing in their "wild card" CDs - certificates of deposit unrestricted by rate limitations. But then they found a good deal of the money came not from the outside sources but from the passbooks of their own depositors.

Offroad vehicle curbs

The dune buggy and other off-road vehicles can be jolly fun; no doubt of it. They also are potential spoilers of the natural terrain into which they, unlike other vehicles, can venture at

Thus we consider it an act in the public interest that the Agriculture Department has at last gotten under way its program for control of offroad vehicles. Regulations banning or restricting operation of such vehicles on the millions of acres administered by the U.S. Forest Service are to be put into effect gradually over a four-year period. Our only quarrel with this is the length of time involved. A lot of damage can be done in a year. This is particularly true of the seemingly

Editors Note — Marcus Eliason, AP correspondent in Jerusalem and born in South Africa, traveled 2,000 miles around the Eastern half of America. Here is his impression of the Statue of Liberty

By MARCUS ELIASON

NEW YORK (AP) — You don't have to be American to know the Statue of Liberty. No matter where in the world you live you've seen it countless times, in movies, comic books, school books and on television.

Like the Eiffel Tower or the Coca-Cola sign, you forget its nationality and come to consider it your own, even if you're from such faraway places as Israel, or Rhodesia, like myself.

Voyaging to the island of the Statue of Liberty on a sunny Sunday, I found myself surrounded mainly by other foreigners. As we disembarked there was a babble of tongues, marvelling at the immensity of the 87-year-old lady.

I — and perhaps many of my fellow tourists — felt as though I was visiting a relative I had never before met. On the grassy slopes of the island.

Israelis mingled with Arabs, white South Africans with blacks, East Europeans with Westerners. On a small outdoor stage, an Egyptian folksinger performed for the crowd. Among those who clapped delightedly to his rhythm was a Cairoborn Israeli. An old Polish woman listened intently as her daughter excitedly told her Liberty was the world's biggest statue

A Japanese father laboriously translated the barrage of statistics presented in Liberty's museum, while his children nodded in awe as he reeled off each figure.

Two orthodox Jews from Israel were arguing vehemently over whether the statue could collapse. "It's nearly a century old," protested one. "So the Wailing Wall stood for 2,000 years," said the other. A group of Kuwaiti Arabs sat on a

Her cleaning woman is tops, also light-fingered

DEAR ABBY: For the last year I have employed an excellent cleaning woman who has also done my laundry. She is immaculate, quiet, and hasn't missed a day's work. She is the sole support of several fatherless children, so I have been extremely generous in giving her leftover food and even collecting children's clothing from my friends of her youngsters.

From time to time I've missed a few items. Panties, hosiery, towels. Nothing very valuable.

Suddenly she shows up wearing a pair of silver hoop earrings which looked familiar. I went to my drawer, and sure enough, mine were missing!

I asked her where she got the earrings, and she said she couldn't remember. Abby, I know they are mine! Now I am wondering if I should ask her to give me my house key and tell her why I don't want her to work for me any more.

I feel so guilty considering such a thing because I know how much she needs the money. So what should I do? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: The woman is apparently simple-minded or she never would have worn in your presence the earrings she stole from you. Tell her you know she has been stealing, but if she returns the stolen items and promises not to take anything else, you will give her another chance. If she accepts those terms, keep her. And if she steals again, send her on her way.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister lost a full-term baby. He was born dead. We sent a sympathy card addressed to her and her husband. They were offended.

The father-in-law told me you shouldn't send sympathy cards in a case like this. Tell me, Abby, were my husband and I right or wrong? UNIONTOWN, PA.

And how do you like this kind of behavior from a man who has two college degrees and a father who used to beat him up?

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF DEAR HISTORY: History need not repeat itself. Tell Father that his punishment is cruel and excessive and it's damaging the relationship between him and his children, so cut it out. And it might not hurt to have your husband examined physically and mentally. Two college degrees don't give one immunity from illness. CONFIDENTIAL TO OLD-TIMER IN PALM BEACH: Before you put down the youth of today, read this: "Our youth now love luxury. They have bad manners, contempt for authority; they show disrespect for their elders, and love chatter in places of exercise. They no longer rise when elders enter the room. They contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble up their food, and tyrannize their teachers.'

added in a joint interview. The traveling international brigade holds rallies, gives lectures, does personal evangelizing on the streets. Its members also move in force into cities where the Rev. Mr. Moon, now on a four-month, 21-city tour, is to appear, selling tickets to his lectures.

Because of the all-out way they flood a city with his name, on posters, by radio and television, in newspaper ads and in sidewalk conversations, they're sometimes called "Moon people." They

Vesper service planned Sunday at church farm

An unusual worship event is being planned for members of the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church this Sunday evening, weather permitting, at the church farm near Bloomingburg.

The service will be in the form of an informal vesper service, part of which will be led by the young people of the church, and a service of thanks and dedication led by the pastor.

Those attending are asked to bring folding chairs and blankets with them. Parking will be available in the wooded area of the farm, and lanterns will provide light. The campfire area is being cleaned and the wood prepared by the young men of the church's Scout troop under the direction of Bill Cales.

A bus will leave the church at 7:30 p.m. to take those who need transportation to the farm. The service will get under way at 8 p.m. and will be over by 9 p.m. In case of rain or wet grounds, the service will be cancelled.

The congregation received the church farm in 1934 from the estate of Miss Mary Edwards. It has been used strictly for crops in the past, but it is hoped that in the future the wooded area of the farm can be developed into a picnic and camping area for families of the church. It is emphasized that community residents who are not members of the church are invited to take part in the vesper service as well.

Prior to the service, the Youth Council will meet at the church to make plans for future events, and the Communicants Class will also meet briefly before going to the service.

Church Day is observed by United Methodist Women

Service of Grace United Methodist Church held its monthly Church Day Wednesday. Haynie Circle was hostess for the carry-in noon luncheon that preceded the business meeting.

Mrs. William Shepard had a lovely worship table with a wicker cornucopia of harvest fruits and vegetables, an arrangement of yellow and rust hued mums, a burning candle, and a Bible upon a yellow cloth. Her Bible reading was from Ecclesiastes and her theme, as demonstrated by a selection of Norman Vincent Peale was: "Love life and life will love you back.'

Mrs. C.L. Lewellen, chairman for World Community Day for Church Women United, described the outstanding program planned for this event on Nov. 2. Mrs. Billie Wilson is in charge of the noon luncheon which the Society will prepare.

Nov. 7 is a red-letter day for Grace United Methodist Church, for it marks the local Celebration of Methodist Women of a new purpose, a new organization, and a new spirit as all last from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and will be followed by a tea for which the Methodist women are baking hundreds of cookies in their homes

At 1:30 p.m. Nov. 13, in the Methodist chapel, will be held for a second time the ceremony initiated last year of the Opening of the Talent Jars, where in the monies earned from the individual's year-long use of her talents will be poured out, counted, and dedicated to the service of Christ.

Calendars should be marked for Nov. 17 for that popular and much anticipated event, Wesleyan Service Guild's Christmas bazaar. Rgaland Circle will prepare lunch for this event.

Today's business meeting was followed by a panel reporting on the National Assembly which met in Cincinnati. Each panel member described the event of the Assembly that seemed most outstanding to each individual. The enthusiasm was immense. This Assembly convenes nationally every four years. Over 8,000 Methodist women from the 50 states and all over the world poured into

Queen Esther Class elects new officers

New officers were elected by the Queen Esther Class of First Christian Church when the members met in the home of Mrs. Ona Miller. Mrs. Mabel Whitmer, president, conducted the meeting. Those elected were Mrs. Daisy Moffitt, president; Mrs. Whitmer, vice president; Mrs. Blanche Purcell, secretary; Mrs. Wilma Vanway, treasurer; and Mrs. Leora Graham, reporter.

Shock wave felt in several states

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Scientists meteor zipping into the atmosphere at have speculated that a meteorite entering earths atmosphere may have caused a mysterious shock wave felt over several states Thursday night.

When various officials and agencies insisted there were no known aircraft that could have caused such a widespread sonic boom, many concluded a minor earthquake had hit the

But seismographic instruments came up blank.

The only other guess is it conceivably could have been a meteorite coming into the area, said Dr. Shelton Alexander, Penn State geophysics and seismology expert.

Sonic booms are frequently caused by airplanes breaking the sound barrier, and Dr. Alexander said a high speeds could have the same effect. It definitely was not an earthquake, he said after making extensive checks of the instruments at Penn States seismic observatory. The shock wave rattled windows over a wide area at about 9 p.m. EDT. Police stations, newspapers and radio stations were swamped with calls from worried residents in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, Ohio and Western Indiana.

There were no reports of any damage or injuries.

Air Force officials in Pennsylvania and officers at the Naval Observatory in Washington said they had sighted nothing that could have caused a sonic boom or an explosion.

Beltsville, Md., and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington said they knew of nothing that could have caused the shock.

The National Earthquake Information Center in Boulder, Colo., said its instruments would not record a small earthquake in the eastern United States and that they had no knowledge of a large quake anywhere.

Most of the reports described the shock as lasting only a few seconds. Some reports said there was a series of up to three separate tremors.

Harsha will speak in Munich, Germany

WASHINGTON - Ohio Congressman. William H. Harsha will speak at the seventh World Meeting of the International Road Federation in Munich, Germany next week.

Rep. Harsha, ranking Republican on the House Public Works Committee, is the only U.S. congressman invited to address the convention of leading government and civilian road officials from more than 100 countries. The road experts will meet in Munich from Sunday, Oct. 14, to Saturday, Oct. 20 to consider current and future highway needs and methods.

As the award-winning author of the recently enacted federal-aid highway safety act, Rep. Harsha will participate in a highway safety panel discussion by international experts. The session, scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 17, will concern "Appropriate Methods of Public Enlightenment and Education in the Field of Road Safety.

DAYTON — The Dayton Power and will be located at East Bend in Boone Light Co. has announced plans to participate in the construction of three electric generating facilities which will cost more than $900 million.

These will include units for two new coal-fired generating plants, and another unit to be built at the Zimmer Nuclear Power Station near Moscow,

Robert B. Killen, president of DP&L, said his company and the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. will share the ownership and electric output of the two new stations. The two companies and Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. will finance the addition to facilities. Each will also have a cooling the Zimmer Station.

CG&E will be responsible for planning, constructing and operating of one County, Ky., about 24 miles southwest of Cincinnati. Construction of this plant is expected to begin early next year with completion scheduled in 1979.

DP&L will have the same responsibilities for the second new generating station. Killen said that the company is still evaluating a location for this

A 600,000 kilowatt unit is planned for each location at a cost of about $213 million each, Killen said. Each unit will be equipped with about $60 million worth of air and water pollution control tower, a tall stack, the best dust collection equipment available and provision for a sulfur dioxide removal construction of large, jointly-owned of the new generating stations which system when perfected and if needed. generating units in order to obtain an unit at Zimmer Station are also in the early stage of development, Killen said. The three companies will participate in the addition, with CG&E responsible for the construction. A similar arrangement exists for the under construction for a year.

THE SECOND Zimmer unit will have a generating capacity of about one million kilowatts, Killen said. It will be scheduled for completion in the early 1980's, and is expected to cost about $500 million.

For the past 10 years, Killen said, DP&L has been participating with neighboring utility companies in the Plans for installing a second nuclear economy of scale advantage. He explained that it costs less to buy, less to build and takes fewer personnel to operate a 600,000 kilowatt unit, for example, than it does for two 300,000 kilowatt units.

"The projects we have planned 840,000 kilowatt unit, which has been represent a record investment in the largest construction program ever undertaken in the history of our company," Killen pointed out. "We do not build power plants as mere speculative ventures. An increased demand for electric service creates the need for additional generating capacity. The sequence is precisely in that order. It takes about six years to plan and build a coal-fired station and eight to nine years for a nuclear station.

"The plans we are developing are based solely on the estimated needs of people who are relying on us for energy today and in the years to come. Our job is to meet that responsibility, and I am confident that we can pending adequate

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This Saturday afternoon, television viewers will get a welcome respite from the shock of the Spiro T. Agnew story as NBC-TV broadcasts the opening game of the World Series.

For millions of viewers, among them Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, the initial word of the Agnew case came as they watched NBC's coverage of Wednesday's National League championship series game between the New York Mets and the Cincinnati Reds.

At 2:35 p.m. EDT, NBC's picture of a baseball game was replaced by one of Agnew. The roar of the ballpark crowd was silenced for a brief report on Agnew's unexpected resignation as vice president.

CBS-TV put out the story at the same time. Four minutes later, ABC-TV checked in with its first report on Agnew's action and no-contest plea to a charge of evading federal income

After that, the Mets-Reds game and regular daytime shows resumed, interrupted sporadically for updates on the Agnew story in reports that ranged from one to seven minutes.

By 5 p.m. EDT, all three networks working under heavy time pressures, had announced Agnew specials for later that evening.

The three specials didn't present startling new information. They effectively recapitulated the day's story and the federal probe leading to Agnew's resignation, traced his controversial public career from his days as Baltimore County executive and speculated at length on Agnew's replacement as vice president.

The best of the specials, for my dough, was the one on CBS. It seemed more crisp, more comprehensive than the others

It was anchored by Walter Cronkite, who at the close of the earlier CBS Evening News gave a strongly sympathetic eulogy of sorts for Agnew, a man he's often criticized for his verbal assaults against the networks and meeting in a "miniconvention" certain publications.

Theologian

sees religious revival

By HELEN CARRINGER Education Editor, Akron Beacon Journal

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)-Theologian and activist William Stringfellow says an important religious revival is taking place outside the church.

Stringfellow, theologian-inresidence at the College of Wooster until Oct. 14, said he believes the revival is of "considerably more depth and significance than a revival of the early '50s.'

He says he finds the "Jesus Movement" and other religious youth movements encouraging in that the young people are trying to read and comprehend the Bible on their own. "They have rejected the conventional churches that have social and cultural origins but masquerade with a religious appearance," he said in a recent interview. "In the communities they have formed, some are trying to find again the kind of community the church is described as in the Acts of the Apostles," he added.

The slight, intense author is critical of churchs and institutions "which claim the name 'Christian' but have become profoundly secularized.

He calls himself a "Biblical person" in preference to "Christian" to include teachings of Judaism as well as Christianity

In the religious revival, he looks to a return to monasticism as one of the best hopes for retaining sanity and resisting turning into technological

He says that by monasticism he means "enclaves or groups of people in which civility and intelligence are harbored and ideas are nurtured" rather than old-time monastaries.

"The role society now sets before everyone is not living," Stringfellow says. He says the public is so assaulted by official deception and hypnotic types of merchandising that it must find a quiet "place of contemplation to begin to make some sense.

"Being a robot in public life and a spectator (of television and commercial sports) and consumer in private life, concerned with the acquisition of swimming pools and similar material things, requires the surrender of sanity," Stringfellow

Really living involves being grateful for and using our full capacity as human beings, a responsibility for all other human beings," he says, adding: "To be human inherently means political involvement.

Lion Cubs register fourth win in row

The Washington C.H. junior high football team, behind a four-touchdown performance by Jeff Elliott, rolled to an easy 30-0 victory over Wilmington Thursday at Wilmington.

At the same time, the Washington C.H. freshman football team, was losing its fourth straight contest, at the hands of Wilmington, 22-6.

THE LION Cubs traveled to Wilmington with a record of 3-0 and had allowed only 16 points in 12 quarters. When returning home the Blue Lions had still only given up 16 points and had scored 122 points in 16 quarters.

Washington C.H.'s junior high allowed only two first downs to the punchless Wilmington team. The biggest gain Wilmington could put together on one play was six yards. Wilmington runners continuously found themselves in the grasp of the powerful Blue Lion defenders led by Doug Stewart and Gary Huysman.

But the difference in the contest was the Washington C.H. offensive attack led by Elliott.

Elliott scored four different times to totally baffle the Wilmington defense. The first score Elliott produced was a 44-yard run in the first quarter. Greg Tillet scored the extras and the Lions led 8-0 after the first quarter

The second touchdown for the Lion Cubs came on a 32-yard run by Elliott in the second quarter. Devik Hargo then passed to Tony West for the extra points and Washington C.H. led 16-0 at halftime

The third quarter started with Wilmington kicking off and Elliott returning the kick 90 yards for the score. The extras were made by Larry Brickles and Washington C.H. held a commanding lead. The final score came on an 11-yard run by Elliott late in the fourth quarter. The extras failed, but Washington C.H. held on through the fourth quarter with the second string finishing up the

Coach Roger Mickle reported that

made possible by the offensive line and its ability to fire-out and open holes for the runners. Mickle explained that the offensive line played the best game he has seen in all his years as a junior high On the offensive line are, Gary Hysman, Bobby Shaw, Rich Allen, Doug Stewart, Dwayne Six, Chester Hollar, Bobby Runnels and Terry

Meanwhile, the Washington C.H. freshman team was still having its problems in trying to mount any kind of scoring threat.

On Wilmington's first possession the Lion frosh allowed a 60-yard touchdown pass to be completed. The extras were also good and the Hurricane led by eight points.

IN THE second quarter Wilmington scored again. This time on a 25-yard run up the middle. But Washington C.H. failed to mount any consistency in its offensive assignments.

The third quarter remained scoreless throughout with both teams failing to cross the goal-line.

Then, in the fourth quarter, Wilmington put together another pass for a touchdown. The extras were again good and Wilmington led 22-0

Washington C.H. finally tallied six points on a blocked punt with Randy Aills picking the ball up and carrying it to the end zone. The extra point attempt

Panther frosh post third straight win

The Miami Trace freshman team pounded the Greenfield freshmen Thursday evening at Miami Trace

Field by a score of 50-6. In the action after the freshman game. The Bengals scored in every quarter to beat the Rams 26-14 and the Cowboys squeaked by the Browns 16-14, in the Miami Trace junior high league.

THE FROSH put together an attack on the ground and one in the air that left the Greenfield Frosh stymied. Totaling 139 yards in the air and 192 yards on the ground, the Panthers scored three times in the first half and five times in the second half to wrap up their third victory in a row after a tie in the season

The defense was also superb as Greenfield could pick up only 69 yards rushing, 30-yards passing and one touchdown.

Bill Warnock started the scoring in the first quarter with a four-yard run. The extra point attempt failed and the Panthers were on their way. The defense even got in the act of scoring as Sam Grooms tackled the Greenfield quarterback in the end zone for a safety. That left the score after the first quarter 8-0, Miami Trace run, plus he took the extras across to

Only one touchdown was made in the second quarter as Dan Gifford blasted his way over the goal from five-yards out. Quarterback Tom Everhart made the extras and the Panthers held a comfortable lead at halftime.

The second half was marked by five touchdowns and two extra-point conversions for the Panthers. The first score was a 31-yard run by Everhart, the second score came on a 12-yard gallop by Warnock and one of the extra point attempts by Neil Spears. The third touchdown came on a short run by Spears. Another touchdown came on a 32-yard pass to Joe Black from Spears and the final touchdown for Miami Trace came on a Rex Coe run. The extras were again made by Spears and the Panthers had done it all.

The only score for the Greenfield frosh was a 58-yard excursion by Detwiller in the fourth quarter. In the first of two junior high games at Miami Trace Field Thursday night. the Bengals scored four times while allowing the Rams only two touchdowns for the Bengals' second straight

Craig DeMent had his hand in all four scores for the Bengals. The first points were chalked up by a 52-yard pass to Rick Bobbitt from DeMent in the first quarter. The second, third and fourth scores came on runs by DeMent. DeMent also scored one two-point conversion for a total of 26 points for the Bengals.

The Rams' scores came on a one-yard run by C. J. Nicley, an extra point conversion by John Sagar and a fouryard run by Sagar. Both tallies came in the second half for the Rams which left the Bengals open for their second win in as many outings.

THE SECOND junior high game of the night saw a close contest between the Cowboys and the Browns. Kirk Stookey intercepted a pass and lateraled back to Art Schlichter for a 40-yard touchdown run to start the scoring off. Schlichter made the extras and the Cowboys held the lead.

Schlichter scored again on a one-yard give the Cowboys 16 points

The scores for the Browns came on a 23-yard pass to Brant Knisley from Hennesey with Hennesey also packing the extras. The second score for the Browns came on a one-vard run by Shane Riley. The extras failed and that was the difference in the contest. The Browns had another try at going ahead but failed to pick up a first down to hold possession of the football deep in their opponents territory

The Miami Trace freshman will host Wilmington at 4:30 p.m. Thursday possession of the SCOL's top perch.

Twice-beaten Wilmington is fresh from a hard-fought 23-20 win over defending champion Circleville in last week's SCOL fireworks. Wilmington's other win was a 42-6 drubbing of winless Hillsboro.

Miami Trace will be risking a precious skein when Circleville comes calling for the 8 p.m. appointment Trace gridiron since the 1971 cam-be facing a Circleville team, which incidentally, handed the Panthers their last league loss with a 24-7 verdict a year ago. Miami Trace has won 10 of its last 11 SCOL outings.

The Panthers, who opened their SCOL crusade a week later than the rest of the teams, popped Hillsboro 28-0 a week ago and will be looking for their second straight league win.

The game between the Panthers and head coach Larry Cook's Tigers also marks Miami Trace's annual Homecoming celebration.

ELSEWHERE on the SCOL worksheet tonight, an improved Greenfield team will be visiting Madison Plains. Greenfield, under the direction of new head coach Fred Brisker, is featuring its best team in six years, dating back to the 1967 campaign when the Tigers posted an 8-2 allgames record.

Greenfield and Madison Plains will be matching identical 0-5 overall games in September and assumed first records. The Tigers have dropped two place in the NL East. contests inside the SCOL race, while Madison Plains had a non-league date and deciding game of the NL playoffs with state-ranked Jonathan Alder last Wednesday and won the league pen-Friday and is 0-1 in the league.

Hillsboro, suffering a five-game nosedive, has monumental task on its chart tonight. Head coach Mike Doyle's Indians will be clashing with stateranked Frankfort Adena on the Warrior gridiron. Frankfort is unbeaten in five starts and the SCOL already shows a lowly 7-16 record this season against non-league competition.

Deer permits to be issued

The Ohio Division of Wildlife will be issuing antlerless deer permits in 10 southern Ohio counties (athens, Morgan, Monroe. Washington, Muskingum, Vinton, Meigs, Jackson and Hocking.) Oct. 24. There will be 100 free permits issued for each county.

Persons wishing to be included for the public drawing should send a post card with name, address, 1973 deer permit number and include on the card the county of their choice. Address post cards to Antlerless Deer Hunt, Division of Wildlife. Fountain Square, Columbus, Ohio,

Deadline for entry is Oct. 19. The drawing will take place at the Division of Wildlife headquarters in Columbus.

Ohio party chiefs like Rockefeller

Ohio's Republican officials have indicated they want New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller to be the nation's next vice president.

Courts

MARRIAGE APPLICATION

Robert D. Stockwell, 32, Hillsboro, dispatcher, and Rebecca J. Finney, 25, Washington C.H., office manager.

JUVENILE COURT

A 16-year-old Jeffersonville boy was found to be delinquent by Juvenile Court Judge Rollo M. Marchant and was placed on probation. He had been charged with possession of marijuana.

A 14-year-old Washington C.H. boy, charged with petty theft and malicious destruction of property, was found to be delinquent and was placed on probation under Marshall D. Boggs, an officer of the court.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED

David E. Redden, Killeen, Tex., has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against Hidy's Super Value, charging that he was falsely arrested in September, 1971, on a warrant for check fraud.

According to the petition, Redden spent some three months in jail before the case was dismissed at the request of the prosecutor. He claims loss of earnings ($1,200), loss of his automobile ($500), physical and mental distress and public humiliation and embarrassment, ($20,000). He seeks a total of $21,700 damages.

Court dismisses defrauding charge

Acting Judge Omar A. Schwart presided over Municipal Court Thursday in the absence of Reed M. Winegardner, who is on vacation.

A charge of defrauding a taxicab driver, filed against a Springfield man, were dismissed and two persons forfeited bond when they failed to appear.

Cledes L. Riley, 36, Springfield, paid court costs after the fraud charge was dismissed.

Harvey T. Frisbie, 20, of 1126 E. Temple St., and Ronald L. Grisbie, 28, of 1310 S. Elm St., forfeited $50 bond each when they failed to appear to face charges of dumping trash along the banks of Paint Creek

Action sought on short money

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Association of Realtors announced Thursday that its 500,000 members have launched a petition-signing and letter-writing campaign demanding Washington take prompt action to relieve the current mortgage money shortage.

J. D. Sawyer of Middletown, Ohio, association president, told a news conference that "millions of American consumers are suffering from the present economic conditions which have made the buying and selling of homes-and other property-almost impossible.'

In addition to increasing home loan interest rates, that are now between 9 and 10 per cent, some firms have cut off mortgage loans completely.

"I have asked relators across the nation to gather petitions from the buyers and sellers of real estate," said Sawyer, "to present to their representatives in Congress, demanding that action be taken to relieve the extreme hardship faced by many of the 80 million property owners of America because of the current mortgage money crisis.'

Sawyer, predicting that mortgage money will be tight until the second quarter of 1974, said, "For decades, relators and buyers have had to contend with an unpredictable market in mortgage money, subject to wild fluctuations and recurrent credit crunches.

"In the last six years alone, the real estate business has gone through the mortgage crisis wringer three times,' he added.'

Man is convicted in strangling case

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)-William Henry Stewart, 22, of South Point and Olive Hill, Ky., has been convicted of first-degree murder in the strangling of Jeffrey Allen Scott, 15, of South Point, near here June 24.

A Lawrence County Common Pleas Court jury deliberated two hours and 20 minutes Thursday before reaching a verdict. Sentencing was deferred.

U. S. NO. 1 WHITE POTATOES

WE DELIVER

Kent McGough, the party's state chairman, said Thursday night that a poll of members of the State Central and Executive Committee showed Rockefeller the first choice, followed, in order, by Gov. Ronald Reagan of California and U.S. Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich, the House Republican leader.

The chairman did not disclose how the voting went, but he said there was considerable support for the top three whose names are being forwarded to Washington for consideration by President Nixon.

Nixon has asked recommendations from members of Congress and state level party leaders as he considers nomination of a successor to former Vice President Spiro Agnew, who resigned Wednesday.

Nixon's choice requires approval of both houses of Congress.

Several other names were mentioned by members of the Ohio committee, which consists of a man and a woman from each of the state's 23 congressional districts.

They included both of the state's Republican senators, Robert Taft Jr. and William B. Saxbe. Taft said he did not want the nomination.

The junior senator from Cincinnati said his personal choices for vice president are presidential adviser Melvin Laird and U.S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart of Cincinnati.

Saxbe said his mind still was "open" in trying to pick a person who would represent "a negotiated choice."

Rep. Charles W. Whalen, R-Ohio, of Dayton, said he recommended the nomination of Taft, but that the senator replied "no" and told him he would turn it down if it were offered.

Among Ohio congressmen reached, Ford seemed to be the choice. He was the second pick of Rep. William Keating of Cincinnati, behind Taft.

Diet May Cause Kidney Stones

I thought I had a high tolerance for pain until I had a kidney stone. I live in dread that this will again come back. Could a change in my diet prevent their formation?

Anyone who has ever had a stone in the kidney, or especially a tiny stone in the ureter, will surely sympathize with

The ureter is a thin tube that leads from the kidney to the urinary bladder. A very small stone composed of calcium or uric acid may be deposited in the ureter and distend it. The sharp, penetrating and radiating pain can be

As the stone passes from one position to another and finally finds its way into the bladder, the pain changes in character and eventually disappears. There are a great many factors that may be responsible for the formation of stones in the kidney, in the ureter, and in the urinary bladder itself. Long-standing infections and diseases which tend to increase the calcium level in the blood may play an important role in their formation. Gout, a condition more prevalent for high levels of uric acid in the blood. When untreated, small uric acid crystals can be desposited in the urinary tract, and cause the excruciating pain of a kidney stone.

than most people realize, is responsible the creation of kidney stones that contain either calcium or uric acid. If a uric acid tendency is present, foods that are known to be high in purine content must be eliminated from the diet. These foods include sardines, herrings, kidneys, sweetbreads, liver, and anchovies

In addition to diet control, there are excellent drugs to reduce the accumulation of uric acid in the bloodstream.

When the underlying cause for the formation of your kidney stone has been determined and eliminated, the chances for a recurrence are minimized.

Satchell's car was heavily damaged. AN ACCIDENT at the intersection of U.S. 62 and Ohio 238 at 12:55 p.m. Thursday, involved Florence I. Boyer, 48, of 422 Van Deman St., who collided with a car driven by Michael D. Stayrook, 19, of New Holland, as Stayrook pulled away from a stop sign into the path of the Boyer car.

Damage to both autos was moaderate.

A car collided with a semi-trailer rig Thursday at 7:45 a.m.

Karen Sue Mershon, 22, Jamestown Rd., was traveling northwest on U.S. 35 when a semi driven by William R. Daniels, 43, Nashville, pulled out from a private drive into the Mershon vehicle's path.

Moderate damage was done to the Mershon car and none to the semi. There were no injuries.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT involving a semi and its driver, Raymond E. Kern, 47, of Baltimore, Ohio, occurred Thursday at 11:09 a.m.

Kern was backing into an alley off of S. North Street when he struck a car driven by Lois J. Tillis, 35, of 513 S. Fayette St. while she waited in the through lane of S. North Street for traffic to move.

The truck was damaged slightly and the car moderately A hitskip accident occurred in the

FOR BETTER GAS SERVICE-This huge electric motor and pump, designed to increase pressure in the Texas Eastern Co. gas lines, is being installed by the Dayton Power & Light Co. on the Brock farm on the west side of the Lewis Road. The motor(right) the largest in his DP&L district, is rated at 1,250 horsepower. DP&L also is now constructing a six-mile 69-volt power line to operate the motor; it will have to set 88 poles to carry the line. The total cost will be more than $200,000. Texas Eastern carries gas from the fields in Texas across the Midwest to the Eastern states. This installation is one of three for Texas Eastern transmission lines. Completion of the project, about five miles north of Washington C.H., is scheduled for November.

Pilots urge greater use of airport

The Fayette County Pilots Association would like to see greater use made of the Fayette County Airport; that was what Jack Sanders talked about at this week's meeting.

But what few people realize, Sanders said, is the number of company-owned planes that come and go at the airport, bringing businessmen, often from distant places, to industries here, and the amount of freight delivered. Some of these company-owned planes are sizeable juts.

The dozen pilots at the meeting also discussed the possibility of installing a rotating beacon. They got hung up, however, on the estimated cost of $600. This would augment the radio beacon which was installed about four months ago. The county shared the radio beacon expense and the Pilots Association expressed the hope that a rotating beacon could be a cooperative

The gist of the discussion was that people throughout the area should be encouraged to visit the Airport to see for themselves the number of planes that fly in and out all day. It was brought out, too, that an average of 20 light planes for personal use are based
